Description & house plan

The vineyard castle Villa Antonio has 18 double rooms, 12 family rooms and 1 suite and is set in a private vineyard on the southern hill of the village Postup (like the wine of the same name), the longest peninsula of Croatia. The landlord, Herr Anton Bezek, received the award of Best Croatian host of the year 2005 - certainly a height in his career and a confirmation at the same time that Villa Antonio is the top destination between Dubrovnik and Korcula.

Even when you've booked half board or only 1 night (with or without breakfast) you can use all facilities of the castle and you can enjoy the hospitality of the house and the excellent cooking of the landlord. You are invited as well to take part in the typical way of life of the castle.

Surroundings & activities

Due to its exceptional location, the castle dominates the entire coastline of the city of Orebic and Korcula. Villa Antonio offers something that is hard to find in the entire region: a natural Cave with entrance into the sea for moments of peace and quiet, to chill out at the sea with an unforgettable view of the cities of Orebic and Korcula. Close by lies the beach of the neighbouring village Mokalo, having a diving school as well. They actually have a real sunken ship from World War II to practice on. The ship was full of munitions and sank at 100m from the shore due to a storm.

The sandy beaches of Orebic are famous in Europe.

Several recreation facilities: tennis courts, water sports and a rich nightlife.

Places of interest: Korcula - birth town of Marco Polo, Dubrovnik, Ston, Mostar, Makarska and the island/national reserve Mljet.

Red wine Postup - own selection.
